Additional information	Ecological and floristic observations throughout the year, conducted by the IGN team (l'Institut national de l'information géographique et forestière), for each statistical-inventory sampling point located in the forest (exposure, slope, topography, complete floristic survey on a fixed surface of 700 m <sup>2</sup> , description of soil, etc.). These data are collected throughout the national territory according to a stable protocol since 1994. Thanks to their systematic character, they constitute an ecological observatory of the most widespread forest ecosystems.
